BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY FOR MRS. MOBLEY

A birthday surprise party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. William Mobley in honor of her birthday anniversary. About 35 guests were present and a most delightful evening was spent in games and dancing. Mrs. Mobley received many beautiful gifts. At the close of the evening a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Mildred Allshouse, a sister of Mrs. Mobley, who planned the surprise. Out of town guests were present from Monongahela and Belle Vernon.

HEAVY SENTENCE ON MONONGAHELA MAN

In criminal court at Washington on Friday, William Vandever of Monongahela, was sentenced by Judge J. A. McIlvaine to serve from 7 to 14 years in the Western Penitentiary, after a jury had found him guilty of a statutory crime. Vandever was stunned by the sentence, and after the judge had pronounced the penalty he broke down and cried like a child.

After the verdict had been brought in and Vandever asked if he had anything to say, he stated the whole thing was a "frameup" on him. In answer to this Judge McIlvaine said that he could see no evidence of a frameup; that Mary Mulka, the little girl against whom the revolting crime was committed, could not have concocted the story she told in the court room on Thursday. The court stated further that this was one of the worst crimes of its kind that had ever come to light and Judge McIlvaine was of the opinion that the law was surely enacted to cover just such a case as this.

The girl in the case is an orphan, not yet 14 years of age, who had come to Monongahela to make her home with the family of Jesse Fields. Her former home had been in Portage, where her parents died. Vandever is well known in certain circles along the Monongahela valley, and only last summer was implicated in a case here in Charleroi, in which he was charged by a Brownsville man with helping to get away with a large sum of money in a card game. The case, however, never got to a trial, because of lack of evidence it is said.

Secretary Elected for Chamber of Commerce

J. S. Heffner, of Pittsburgh, was elected secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the Board of Directors held Wednesday evening. A telegram received from Mr. Heffner stated his pleasure in accepting the position, and that he would arrive in Charleroi this afternoon. He will begin his duties immediately and will be pleased to meet all citizens in his office in the borough building. Mr. Heffner is well qualified for the position, being a college graduate, two years of university work, and three years of law study. He was formerly with the Steubenville, Ohio, Chamber of Commerce, during which time he was instrumental in developing a splendid community spirit. Among their accomplishments was the erection of a million and a half dollar hotel; the establishment of the playground and recreation system, and an industrial athletic league. Steubenville is a river city similar to Charleroi and his experience there should prove helpful in solving our local problems. The Board of Directors will meet tonight in the Chamber headquarters at eight o'clock to meet with Mr. Heffner and to receive the final report of the field secretary of the American City Bureau. A full attendance is desired.

The Cross and Diploma were conferred upon Mr. Wahlstrom in recognition of his recent triumphal tour of that country with the Louhi band. When his organization appeared in all of the leading cities of Finland. The Cross of the White Rose is one of the coveted awards of the country and fortunate indeed is the person to whom the honor is bestowed.

RECEPTION IN HONOR OF REV. J. R. SHIELDS

The reception in honor of the Rev. Robert J. Shields and wife at the First Presbyterian church last evening was a very pleasant occasion. There was a large attendance including several out of town guests. The committee in charge had prepared a brief programme which included instrumental selections by the Crawford family, reading by Miss Grace Anderson, Piano Solo by Mrs. Fitch P. Wright. These numbers were enthusiastically received. Short addresses were delivered by Rev. W. E. McKee of Monongahela, Rev. W. G. Ramage of the Redstone Presbytery and Rev. R. J. Shields. The second part of the programme was devoted to an informal social time followed by refreshments furnished by the ladies of the church. During this part of the programme the Crawford Family rendered several very pleasing selections in a very capable manner.

WILLARD MEMORIAL SERVICE IS HELD

The Frances Willard Memorial Service, held Thursday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, was beautiful in its simplicity, and the white ribbon worn by the members was much in evidence.

The meeting was of a commemorative character, and "The Life and Work of Miss Willard" was the subject of a paper, instructive and entertaining, presented by Mrs. F. C. Stahlman. An early pledge taken was presented by Mrs. Kibler, and the poem of the hour was presented by Mrs. Campbell.

A picture of the early day struggle of the W. C. T. U. was presented by Mrs. Whitehead; Whittier's poem, below the marble bust at the national capital, Washington, D. C., by Mrs. Manon; a reminiscent talk was given by Mrs. Allman. Rev. Hanscosky, the local Slavic worker, spoke of present-day conditions in Europe and the needs of his people here at home. A trio by Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Dawson, accompanied by Miss Sarah Nutting, closed the program.

CHAPEL ADDRESS BY DR. F. C. STAHLMAN

Dr. F. C. Stahlman delivered an interesting talk to the students of the high school, at this morning's chapel exercises, on the subject, "Special Medicine and Surgery." The speaker's remarks were in line with the series of talks on "Life Work," arranged by Prof. C. C. Lively, earlier in the season, with a view of trying to aid the students in making a choice of their future work. Dr. Stahlman's address was very much enjoyed.

AUTO DRIVER WAS EXONERATED FROM BLAME

A coroner's jury on Tuesday exonerated Neil Yohe of Monongahela, from all blame in connection with the death last Friday of Fred Veschio a miner, who lived in Monongahela. Veschio was on his way home from work when he was struck by an automobile driven by Yohe.

M'KEAN COMMANDERY TO HOLD ANNUAL TOURNOIR IN MARCH

TORNADOES CLAIM THE AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

The Robertson Tornadoes, who have been making a splendid record at basket ball this season, being thus far undefeated, claim the Junior championship of the Monongahela valley, and stand ready to defend title at any time either on the H. T. A. C. floor, where all their home games are played or on any floor suitable to any team which wishes to dispute their claim. For games address Cuddy DeMarco, No. 5 First street, Charleroi.

Extensive Preparations under Way for Event, First For Some Years

ASSEMBLY AT ELKS AUDITORIUM

The executive committee of McLean Commandery, No. 80, Knights Templar, announce their Tournoi and reception, to be held Friday evening, March 18, 1921, in the Elks' auditorium, corner Third street and Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi.

These Tournois for years have been an annual event, but due to the world war and the influenza epidemic, they were discontinued. During the past year, however, many requests have been made for the resumption of these events, and it was decided to restore this festive occasion to the social calendar. In order that it may be in keeping with all such events of the past the committee in charge is making extensive preparations to make it one of the best and the most elaborate ever held in the history of the Commandery.

A very pleasing program which will consist of vocal and instrumental numbers, and readings, will be presented by leaders in their respective lines. Jean De Backer, famed as a symphony orchestra leader and an instructor of violin, William A. Davis, noted tenor, of Syria Mosque, A. O. N. M. S., and others of national fame, have promised to take a place on the evening's program. It is anticipated that the attendance will exceed all previous similar occasions, and the grand march will be a feature to be long remembered. This will be followed by dancing, both old and new.

Masons from every town in the Monongahela valley will attend, along with a number of Grand officers, who will participate. The arrangements for the event are in charge of a committee composed of Carl M. Wertz, chairman; Charles S. McKean, treasurer; Joseph W. Stech, George Leith, James Stevenson, Thomas R. Eagye, George W. Scott, Lyman Clark, Samuel C. Simcox, Jr., and Roy I. Carson.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR RECENT BRIDE

Thirty-five members of the Isabelle Thoburn Class of the Methodist Episcopal church were entertained by Miss Mattie Kelley at her home on McKean avenue Tuesday evening in the form of a shower for Mrs. John Reilly, formerly Miss Esther Hall, a recent bride of the class. The house was beautifully decorated in the Valentine Day colors, red and white, with small cupid and hearts. The evening was spent in fancy work, following which a pleasant surprise was in store for the bride. Each member was invited to Dan Cupid's Post office where they received small favors in the form of a valentine. The bride's being a large basket filled with many beautiful and useful gifts which Dan Cupid had left her. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

DO MOST WORK ON THURSDAY

Statistics Show That British Factory Employees Are at Their Best About Midweek.

What is the best workday in America? In England it is Thursday. That is the finding of industrial research board investigators of that country. The London Chronicle reports that over a period of twenty weeks the output was registered and "graphs" were made.

The workers gave their best on Wednesdays and Thursdays, but the output on Saturday was invariably low. When doubled (to equalize time) it is often less than 75 per cent of that on other days.

Another important conclusion was that the skilled workman is much more regular in his output than the worker not so well qualified. He does not get the "tired Saturday feeling" so soon.

In some factories the output arises until Friday, but among the less skilled workmen it was found that Thursday was the best working day.

An important consideration which the investigators kept in mind was that of the atmospheric condition in which work is done. Records of the air conditions have been taken with the output records.

In various plants the Saturday output was so low that employers found it unprofitable to operate, so they closed down. From this it would appear that on a half day the worker does not give the average of a half day of production.—Richard Spillane in the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

BOMBAY A CITY OF BEGGARS

Government Is Planning Severe Measures to Repress Nuisance That Is Becoming Intolerable.

Some time ago the government of Bombay appointed a committee to consider and formulate proposals for the purpose of suggesting practical measures whereby the ever-growing nuisance of professional beggary might be abolished. The committee has now completed its investigation and has issued a report.

The report shows that there are in Bombay city alone 5,000 professional beggars, and the beggars in other parts bring the total for the presidency to over 60,000. The general conclusions of the committee are that there must be introduced at the earliest opportunity an act for the prevention of professional beggary, which will be applicable to the whole of the presidency.

Sadhus and fakirs, it is suggested, should be exempt from the operations of the act, which it is proposed should make begging a cognizable offense.

Those who have visited India will doubtless recall with feelings of horror the terrible sights they have witnessed of beggars, many of them physical wrecks and suffering from loathsome diseases, seated about the roads soliciting alms from passersby.—From the Times of India.

War Maps for Envelopes.

From the Red Cross Bulletin of the Baltic states, published at Riga: "The shortage of paper has resulted in many novel makeshifts. One of these is the use of German and Russian official war maps as material for envelopes.

"Large quantities of war maps of the Russian, the German Imperial army and the German Imperial volunteer army were captured by the Letts since their independence in November, 1918. They were sold to private interests, who make many varieties of envelopes from them. The paper is of excellent quality.

"No attempt was made to remove the map proper. The maps were simply folded and cut to size and glued. It is very convenient to open a letter and find that the inside of the envelope is a map of the district of which the letter treats."

France is finding one comfort in the housing shortage. Divorces are decreasing in Paris and other French cities "because of the lack of houses and apartments."

Unable to find suitable places in which to live apart, disgruntled couples in many places are composing their differences and continuing to live under the same roof. During the first three months of this year, 8,006 decrees were pronounced in Paris alone, but since April the shortage of houses has been making itself felt, with the result that the number of divorce actions has been falling steadily. Last month the number of applications fell below one thousand, and this month it is believed the number will not reach the seven hundred mark. It is an ill wind, etc.

A prehistoric graveyard believed to be at least 2,000 years old has been unearthed near Stargard West Prussia, by German investigators under the direction of Professor Zakrewski. In one of the graves the excavators found six black urns and one red urn with white stripes filled with clay and ashes. Among the remains were some glittering substances which the investigators believe once had been adornments of prehistoric men and women.

Electricity in White House.
The White House is probably more intricately equipped electrically than any other residence in the world. There are in the house more than 170 miles of wires, providing for 3,000 incandescent lights, a bell system and a private telephone system for the president and his family, exclusively.

Chess vs. Checkers.

Chess appeals to mature minds, and wood supplies most of the accoutrements with which it is played. Some of the best are of ebony and boxwood, but very satisfactory games may be played with yellow poplar, bass wood, walnut, maple and birch outfits. Says the American Forestry Magazine, "The same holds true on checkers, but that game usually is rated a little lower than chess in scientific points, though no less an authority than Edgar Allan Poe holds that as a mental exercise of the highest and purest sort checkers surpass chess."

Chinese Medical Practices.

In 706 the Chinese began to vaccinate. There were three vaccination stations in which the concoction was poured into the mouth. Stone needles were used to puncture swellings and the idea was not introduced into Europe until centuries later. Cauterization was practiced by burning the rolled leaves of a small plant. It was held to be good for rheumatism and nosebleeds. Anesthetic effects were produced by certain mushrooms and the root of acornite. Cases of skin grafting are early recorded.

They Resist Decay.

The Northwest Indians nearly always made their totem poles out of western red cedar, but this choice was probably due more to the fact that the wood is easy to work and extremely durable, rather than to its fragrance, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. It may be taken as a very good general rule that woods that are scented are resistant to decay and insect attack, and have good cabinet qualities.

Salt May Be Cause of Cancer.

Dr. Joseph De Stephano has recently advanced the theory that the use of salt may be the cause of cancer, and he quotes some instances that seem to indicate that such is the case. Some other physicians, however, take issue with him and the statement is made that in Italy where salt is eaten in great quantities there is very little cancer.

Highest New York Mountain.

Swelling New York's Population.

New York's population would be 50,000,000 instead of 5,000,000 if they counted all of those who registered from New York at the small town hotels.—Southern Lumberman.

HOW ASIATICS TAME EAGLES

Spirits of Fierce Birds Are Broken by Deprivation of Sleep for Long Periods.

The Asiatic eagle is the golden eagle. It is a big bird, many pounds in weight, and exceedingly swift in flight, as well as fierce when attacked. In fact, to see the natives on horseback carrying golden eagles on their arms is a strange sight, for the birds are usually tame, when one considers how they act when free.

The eagle hunter has a problem in taming, much less training, a golden eagle. The eagle hunter finds where an eagle frequently rests during the day. He climbs to this place and ties a live fox there, trailing the rope into some heaped-up stones to form a cavern in which he hides, firmly grasping the rope.

When the attention of the soaring eagle is attracted by the fox, the eagle drops down and kills it. So intent is the greedy bird on tearing his prey that he doesn't notice the dead fox is slowly being drawn along the rocks. When it is within easy reach the hunter casts a net over the eagle and secures him.

Kept absolutely in darkness, and with drums beating night and day so it cannot sleep, the spirit of the eagle is broken. When he shows signs of submission the trainer feeds him a little at a time and gradually wins his respect, if not his affection. With the passage of months the eagle attaches itself to the man who feeds and trains him.—Detroit News.

IGNORED WEALTH UNDER FOOT

Spanish Treasure Seekers Mocked by Fate When They Overlooked Vast Mountain of Iron.

Near Mercado mountain, Mexico, a legend goes, Spanish soldiers slew an Aztec chief, who said that the hill was the upturned finger of the Spirit of Fury, and that it would some day avenge the folly of Spain. The incident was in time related at court, and the fine men and women there laughed over it.

Like the gold seekers who overlooked the fortunes that were under their feet in the wonderful soil of the English portions of the United States, the Spanish silver hunters looked with unseeing eyes upon a naked, blood-colored hill worth more than all they were to take out of Mexico and Peru in a century. Mercado used it to hang his name on, and rode away after the metal he had come to regard as the only form of real wealth.

Just what effect the discovery of this greatest body of iron ore above ground in the world would have had, had the explorers grasped its real value, is hard to say. But there is hardly a more mocking incident in history than that of the Spanish soldiers, when Spain was surfeited with silver and destitute of iron, circling around one of the most perfect iron supplies on the face of the earth, and cursing their luck because they had found nothing of value beyond the mountains.

Ethics of Shoveling.

You can make a science out of anything. You may remember the old joke about the Irishman who said that Hogan was a good shoveler, but he wasn't what you'd call a fancy shoveler. A big plant that manufactures shovels has made a study of shovelology and has unearthed some interesting facts. For instance, a good shoveler should pick up a heavier load than 21 pounds. A good shoveler should not throw further than ten feet horizontally or eight feet vertically. Shovelers should have two ten-minute periods of complete relaxation every two hours. Shovelers should work in pairs, not alone. Two men together will shovel twice as much as two alone. Now, spit on your hands and go to it!—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The first congress of the United States, while in session in Federal hall on Wall street, New York, in 1788-89, authorized and subsequently issued bonds (then called stock) amounting to $50,000,000 for the purpose of discharging debts incurred by the Continental congress and the various colonies. This naturally led to orders for the purchase and sale of these bonds being sent to New York. These orders first came to merchants, attorneys and others, but later, as the transactions increased, some men began to give special attention to this business, becoming the first brokers in America.

Water Affects Varnish.

The varnish on some furniture is so hard and smooth that finger marks and soiled places may be removed with a cloth wrung out of lukewarm suds, made with white soap, and the finish restored by rubbing with a cloth, on which a few drops of light lubricating oil or furniture polish has been sprinkled. In many cases this is a good method to use on the tops of dining tables, but in general it is unwise to put water on varnished, oiled or waxed surfaces. Painted and enameled furniture may, of course, be washed like any other surface so finished.

BACHELORS KNOWN TO FAME

List is Not Overlong, but There Have Been Some Great Men Who Remained Single.

Who is the most famous bachelor in history? While, as is natural to expect, a large majority of the notables of the past have been married men, there have been a few who have attained prominence in the world of art, of science, of statesmanship and in war without the aid of a "better half."

One who had as much claim as any other to the distinction of most eminent bachelor is Michelangelo, one of the greatest figures of the past. Voltaire, scientist and statesman, is another great man who remained single.

In the realm of warfare few of the really great have remained bachelors. Perhaps the most eminent is Lord Kitchener, who was so largely responsible for England's military strength in the World war.

Eliminating these few the list presents a more complicated problem to one who would pick the greatest. There are several others of about equal prominence. Among the painters Raphael stands out as one of the greatest to die unmarried. Chopin and Beethoven, achieved fame in the realm of music without the inspiration of a helpmate.

Several modern writers, poets and essayists achieved prominence by themselves. Charles Lamb, Alexander Pope, Walt Whitman, Phillips Brooks, Henry James, Whittier and Swinburne head the list.

Petrarch was an unmarried historian, and Cecil Rhodes, also single, attained great prominence. Few men have become famous as statesmen without marrying before the end of their career. President Buchanan was a notable exception.

NO QUARREL ON THAT POINT

Father and Small Daughter in Complete Agreement Concerning Classification of Relatives.

There lived with an eminent divine his two sisters, Mary and Jane. One morning he was deeply engrossed in a new treatise he was preparing, when his young daughter was brought to him by her governess.

"I have to report Miss Ellen for a terrible thing. She called her Aunt Mary a—a d—d fool!" said the governess.

"How terrible!" responded the divine. "Did you call your Aunt Mary this awful thing?"

"No, father. I didn't," faltered the youngster. "I called her a fool—but not a—a d—d fool."

"Well, even that is very wicked of you," he replied, "but as you did not use that awful adjective I will forgive you. You may go." And he returned to his writing.

The youngster, however did not go. "Please, father," she said, presently. "I didn't call Aunt Mary a d—d fool. I called her a fool. But—I—I did call Aunt Jane a d—d fool!"

"Yes, yes!" he mumbled, without looking up from his work; "I quite agree. That is the precise distinction between them: that I usually make myself!"—London Tit-Bits.

"Pain Points."

On every human body there are four million "pain points" connected by nerves with the brain. They are, of course, distributed very unevenly. They are placed close together at the tips of the fingers and are furthest apart in the back. Anyone can test this for himself. If you will place two needles one quarter of an inch apart by sticking them into a piece of cardboard you will have a very effective instrument for making tests. Put your finger on these two points and you will, of course, feel both of them. Now apply them to the small of your back and you will feel but one point. In other words, the nerve centers in your back at this point are more than a quarter of an inch apart.—Boys' Life.

Thinking after a while becomes the most pleasurable thing in the world. Give me a satchel and a fishing rod, and I could live myself off and keep busy at thinking forever. I don't need anybody to amuse me. It is the same way with my friend, John Burroughs, the naturalist. We can derive the most satisfying kind of joy from thinking and thinking and thinking.

The man who doesn't make up his mind to cultivate the habit of thinking misses the greatest pleasure in life. He not only misses the greatest pleasure, but he cannot make the most of himself.—Thomas A. Edison.

Bees Eaten for Revenge.

Bees are usually employed as manufacturers of honey, which is everywhere considered a delicious food, but there are places where the bees themselves serve as a food.

The negroes of Guiana, when stung by a bee, proceed to catch as many as they can and in revenge eat them. It would be interesting to know what happens as an effect of the sting thus taken internally.

In Ceylon the natives hold a torch under the bee swarm hanging to a tree, catch them as they drop, then carry them home, boil them and eat them.—Popular Science Monthly.

AMERICAN ILLITERACY

It is surprising to learn that there are eight nations with less illiteracy in proportion to population than the United States, which ranks ninth. Such is the showing of the House Committee on Education which in its report to Congress recommends the passage of the Smith-Towner bill to establish a Federal Department of Education and grant Federal aid to the States to support elementary schools. It seems that Pennsylvania, for example, has 418,000 illiterates; New York, 406,000; Illinois, 169,000; and Ohio, 124,000. Presumably such figures for Northern States are to be partly accounted for by the admission of so many illiterate immigrants before the literacy test was provided. Georgia is given 389,000 illiterates; Alabama, 352,000; Louisiana, 352,000; and Mississippi, 290,000. Presumably this greater proportionate illiteracy for the less densely populated South is partly due to the fact that the bulk of the negro population is found in that section.

In former times it would have been contended, and properly so, that the States should look after their own illiterates. But it is the fashion in these days to shift as many burdens as possible upon the broad and crowded shoulders of the Federal government, and doubtless the Smith-Towner bill, with the increased taxation involved, will become a part of the Federal law. In that case, however, no self-respecting States will be released from obligation in the matter, and all the States should continue, and even add to the work they are now doing in the interest of popular education.

FORETELL PROSPERITY

If you are one of those glooms who think business is going to be dead, with its attendant unemployment, what do you think the following facts foretell?

Most of the billions of Liberty Bonds are still in the hands of the mass of the people and they constitute an enormous buying power.

Hundreds and hundreds of millions that were annually spent in liquor will now be spent in general merchandise and the building of homes.

Everybody now recognizes that our new banking system is a Rock of Gibraltar, and that the Federal Reserve bank will prevent any panic no matter what happens.

Lower taxation is coming sure. As a result of the war the United States is by far the richest nation in the world.

An impetus has been given foreign trade which cannot be lost—anyhow not for many years.

The war standardized many businesses, with the result that there is much greater efficiency in production. And there will be much more efficiency in distribution.

If all these facts do not foretell renewed prosperity what in all conscience do they foretell?

SEASONABLE ADVICE

The winter is drawing to a close but the past has taught us that the fog and is worse for pneumonia, colds and like diseases.

Caution the members of the family against spitting in the home or in public places. Provide a handkerchief.

Even though it is cold weather do not become a "shut-in." Keep in the open as much as possible, get all the fresh air possible, do not overclothe yourself, exercise, and there will be fewer colds and less pneumonia.

Remember that it is during this winter that pneumonia increases. If you keep in good physical condition you will be able to more successfully combat coughs, colds and pneumonia.

President elect-Harding does not believe that any exception should be made in his case in the way of exempting him from the income tax. He has so indicated to his friends in Congress, indicating that he is ready and willing to assume his share of the financial responsibility of the country, just like all others who are called upon to pay their income tax.

An optimist is a man who expects to raise vegetables like those pictured in the seed catalogues.

REHEARSALS BEGIN FEBRUARY 27TH

Rehearsals for the forthcoming productions of the musical play, "Fi-Fi, of the Toy Shop," which is to be given at the high school auditorium, on the evenings of March 16 and 17, will commence on Monday, February 28. The John B. Rogers Producing Company of Fostoria, Ohio, who are to produce the play, will send their musical director to Charlottesville on that date, and rehearsals will begin immediately. Much of the detail work in connection with the production has been accomplished, and consequently there will be nothing to interfere with the holding of immediate rehearsals.

WOMEN IN HOMES AND SOCIETY

Countless women devote their whole lives to their homes, while others are in the business world or find happiness only in society. Whether you are a home woman, a business woman, or a society woman, you know how hard it is to "drag along" day after day, suffering agonies caused by some female derangement that has developed from overtaxing your strength. The natural restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly half a century has been considered a standard remedy for woman's ills.

BELL CASTING IN OLD JAPAN

People Gather in Thousands to Witness Ceremony Which Has Deep Religious Significance.

The making of the bell in old Japan was accomplished by great and solemn rites. Marjorie Latta Barstow writes in Asia. For months, sometimes for years, the community had been contributing of its bronze and copper ornaments and precious possessions. For many days before the casting there were prayers to determine the auspicious moment at which to begin, and to put all spiritual beings and ministers of grace in a propitious mood. Pilgrims came from all the surrounding country, for the Japanese of long ago loved a pilgrimage as much as do their descendants today; and made of their act of piety an opportunity to enjoy a little festivity and see something of the great world. On the appointed day, men gathered in their finest attire. Then the priests appeared in rich ecclesiastical brocades and the workmen in robes beautiful and sanctified. With prayer and ceremony the work reached its climax. The great molds were prepared and the flaming, molten mass, into which had gone so many precious things, was to them what the dedication of a cathedral was to the believers of the middle ages. Before their eyes and with their own co-operation, something intangible and divine assumed shape and tangibility. Many went away to become heroes in their villages because they had participated in the making of the great bell, which became more precious and mysterious as time went on, and they passed on to their children's children, even down to this day, the souvenirs of the occasion, inscribed with prayers by the presiding priests.

RETAIN THEIR WILD INSTINCT

Herds of "Tame" Buffalo Have Much in Common With Their Brethren Who Have Freedom.

The "tame" buffalo of Yellowstone National Park, are tame only in the manner of speaking. They retain all the habits of the original wild species. For instance, they are able, without fail, to predict a heavy storm for one or two days in advance. As the buffalo of the old plains were known to do, they point the storm, standing with the head toward the point from which it afterward breaks. Another sign of uneasiness induced by heavy weather is the stiff-legged leaping and running about in circles which often mark the herd just before a storm breaks on their range. They live practically in all respects the wild life of the so-called wild herd of the park, with the exception that they are watched by horsemen and are fed hay during the most inclement weather of the winter. The ranges of the tame and wild herds overlap to some extent, and without doubt they occasionally interbreed. The original hope, which has not been realized, was that some of the tame herd would drift off and become members of the wild herd.

Ant Engineers.

It has been found that the population of an ant hill has solved many complicated mining problems. Thousands of ants working instinctively perform miraculous engineering feats with amazing efficiency and without profiteering. Each ant finds its own work and the team work when the big problems must be solved is surprisingly efficient. When one shift of workers tires or must stop for food or rest its place is taken by other workers equally skillful so that not a moment is lost. When an ant becomes covered with dirt others immediately clean it by washing and brushing. During their mining operations in digging holes and removing stones an ant is often injured, whereupon others rush to its assistance and carry it to a quieter gallery where first aid may be administered. The resourcefulness of these little engineers has been found to anticipate many of our recent efficiency methods.—Bos's Life.

I liked the English habit of naming their houses: it shows the importance they attach to their homes. All about the suburbs of London and in the outlying villages I noticed nearly every house and cottage had some appropriate designation, as Terrace house, Oak-tree house, Ivy cottage, or some villa, etc., usually cut into the stone gate post, and this name is put on the address of the letters. How much better to be known by your name than by your number? I believe the same custom prevails in the country. It is a good feature. A house or a farm with an appropriate name, which everybody recognizes, must have an added value and importance.—John Burroughs.

Was Sunday Your Birthday?

People born on this day may not live long, but will achieve many great things and win much renown while they do. They will learn many trades and will make and spend much money, their chief trouble coming through their marriage. They will be subject to headache, toothache and fever, and may be in danger from fire and plagues. They will be much beloved, will marry more than once and will be lucky in dealing with horses.

TO EXPLORE OCEAN'S DEPTHS

British Government Contemplating an Expedition for the Gathering of Scientific Information.

The British government is contemplating the dispatch of a deep-sea exploring expedition which is expected to gather much valuable scientific information.

Most people imagine that the depths of the ocean have been pretty thoroughly explored, but this is very far from being true. As a matter of fact, only a very small fraction of the whole area of deep sea bottom has been surveyed. Attention is particularly called to a vast subaqueous region around the Falkland islands and up as far as Montevideo, which is almost unknown, and which, having a depth of less than 100 fathoms, may offer opportunities for the development of lucrative fisheries.

The first deep-sea exploring expedition, that of the famous Challenger, was set on foot just 50 years ago. The ship left port in 1872, and ideas on the subject were in those days so primitive that there was dispute as to whether she should use wire or heupen rope for soundings. It took a whole day to make one sounding, or a single cast of the dredge for bringing up fishes and other animals.

Since then deep-sea sounding apparatus has been much improved by cable ships, and fishing gear has been greatly modified by steam trawlers, which use dredges. Besides, a great deal that is of value has been learned by oceanographic expeditions subsequent to that of the Challenger. Hence the new exploring vessel will start out with a prospect of accomplishing a very great deal of work of real importance.

TOO MUCH FOR SMALL MINDS

Childish Messengers Have Hard Time Remembering Names of Books They Are Sent For.

"I want 'Resurrection in the Parks,'" demanded a little chap of the librarian at the West Indianapolis branch library. "My brother said for me to get it for him."

The librarian did not wish to let the little chap know she was puzzled. She knew it was something that went on in the parks that the boy wished. The "resurrection," she decided, might be "recreation," and that was what she suggested. "That's it," smiled the little chap. "I knew I had that word wrong."

Librarians often deal with little brothers and sisters who are running errands for big brothers and sisters in high school. When one of the tots asked the librarian at the West Indianapolis branch for "Europe's Fables," the librarian smiled, for that was simple to translate into "Aesop's Fables." It was different when another asked for "Out of the Twist," the librarian then had to inquire diligently before she found that the child patron meant "Oliver Twist."—Indianapolis News.

Explanation Briefly Made.

Harold Knutson, Republican whip of the house, tells a yarn about an old fellow up in his country who has a job carrying the mail from the depot to the postoffice, for all of which he gets $1 a trip.

Some of the boys around the grocery store the other night got to kidding the old chap about his job and, eventually, they asked him how much he made out of it.

"I make $1 a trip, three trips a day, $125 a month, or $3,000 a year," he said.

These figures not sounding just right, one of the boys sought to pin him down on his calculations.

"How do you make $3,000 a year?" he asked.

"A carryin' the mail," responded the carrier, and with those few words he departed.

Saturday Change.

Many storekeepers begin their Saturdays by shopping in the neighborhood for small change—dimes, nickels, and pennies. Seven customers out of ten at the butcher's, baker's and grocer's on Saturday pay for their purchases with $10 and $5 bills. Not one in twenty counts out the exact amount.

One storekeeper has found that $50 in subsidiary coins is none too little to carry him through.

Transit lines and automatic vending machines receive tons of coins in a day. Within 48 hours these coins are back in circulation.

Dimes, nickels and pennies are the most active elements of our circulating medium.

Cat Evidently Was Offended.

A yellow cat called Shimmy, of no particular breed, but lately a cherished mascot of the Aberdeen (Wash.) fire department, left her home there suddenly. Shimmy, according to the fire laddies, who hunted three days without success for their vanished pet, made her nest in a coil of hose which is used to wash the floor of the fire hall. On the morn of Shimmy's disappearance a careless fireman turned the water into the coil. Shimmy was catapulted toward the ceiling and shot by the stream of water into the street. The cat has not yet come back.

Financial Backing.

"Your friend the reformer, seems to be enjoying great prosperity these days."

"He had a stroke of luck."

"What was it?"

"He ran across a very rich person who had a troubled conscience."

FIGURED IN HISTORIC PAST

Representation of Monarch of the Time of Abraham Now in Pennsylvania Museum.

In the dim old days of the patriarch Abraham people looked very much as they do now, judging from the oldest representation of human figures unearthed by the toiling brotherhood of archeologists. Two striking figures, one standing and one seated, are included in the elaborate design of the clay seal, or "postage stamp," which has excited the enthusiasm of Dr. Legrain, curator of the Babylonian section of the University of Pennsylvania museum.

Dr. Legrain has figured out the inscriptions of the little tablet as indicating that it dates from the period when "Ur of the Chaldees," mentioned in Genesis in connection with the history of Abraham, was a flourishing kingdom. And he finds reason to believe that the seated figure, decorated with boucées of beautiful acrocoron plaiting, is a portrait of his majesty Ibi-Sia, the last king of Ur and possibly an intimate friend of the Father of Israel.

To the modern eye both figures are remarkably well drawn and lifelike in attitude, especially considering the fact that they were modeled in clay on a very small scale. Dr. Legrain thinks the tablet served the double purpose of a seal and a postage stamp on a sack of money forwarded to a banker named Shulpae by his reverence the high priest of the temple of Ur, at which Abraham worshiped.

TOO HEALTHY FOR MEDICINE

People of Tristan da Cunha Throw Supply Left by British Cruiser Into the Sea.

The island of Tristan da Cunha is described as "an unspoiled haven of rest for the weary soul, a mecca for those who long for relief from worries of life," by the chaplain of the British cruiser Dartmouth, which has just returned from a visit to that isolated spot.

"No need to worry over money there, for there is none," said the chaplain. "There are no taxes, no doctors, no lawyers, no clergymen, no policemen, not even a head man. Newspapers and mail arrive, with luck, about once every two years."

"There is not even any medicine, for the latest supply of remedies was thrown into the sea by the inhabitants, who are remarkably healthy. Epidemics are unknown.

"Tristan, is a British possession in the south Atlantic, between South Africa and South America. Its snow-capped peak towers nearly 8,000 feet above sea level. It is only 21 miles in circumference. The nearest inhabited place is St. Helena, 1,200 miles away. The only habitable portion of it is a tongue of fertile land at the foot of the precipitous cliffs."

The Wrong Number.

Mrs. New Auto owner, all excited, called her husband over the telephone at his office, and announced: "The auto tags came by mail, but we will have to send them back. They sent the wrong number." Business of considerable questioning from the business office end of the telephone.

Then: "Well, they're not the same numbers we had last year, so I thought they had made a mistake."

Explanatory: The machine had come into possession of the family late in the year, a license number was obtained that had six figures and the husband got in early for a 1921 license hoping to obtain a smaller number and he got it.

Anyway, the wife had a good laugh at her own expense when the husband arrived home that evening. And she is learning something each day about autos.

Pellagra and Income.

After a three-year study of pellagra in the cotton-mill villages of South Carolina, the United States public health service shows that pellagra varies inversely with the family income in this locality. "As the income fell the disease was found to increase and to affect more members of the same family. As the income rose the disease decreased, and was rarely found in families that enjoyed the highest incomes, even though this highest was still quite low."

A recent statement given by one of the large life insurance companies indicates that the food standards of Southern wage earners must have improved remarkably of late, for the death rate from pellagra has fallen from 6.7 per 100,000 in 1915 to 2.3 in 1919.

Much Gasoline Wasted.

About one-third of the gasoline used in automobiles is wasted. This is the conclusion reached by A. C. Fieldner of the United States bureau of mines, from experiments under traffic conditions to determine the air pollution of the automobile engine under various conditions.

city. The waste is chiefly due to too rich gasoline mixture. It is estimated that an improved and practically automatic carburetor might save American automobilists $34,000,000 a year.

Free Medicine.

A prominent city man, who is as parsimonious as he is wealthy, is very fond of getting advice free. Meeting a well-known physician one day, he said to him:

"I am on my way home, doctor, and I feel very seedy and worn out generally; what ought I to take?"

"Take a taxi," came the curt reply. —Tit-Bits, London.

Find Gold in Trees.

There is gold in trees. Tests have been made by taking the wood of certain trees, burning to ashes and assaying the ashes. It has been found that the ashes of almost all trees showed traces of gold. The harder the wood, the more gold there was. Ashes of the black iron wood contained from four to ten shillings' worth of gold per ton. The metal tends to collect in the trunk near the roots, and the quantity naturally depends upon the auriferous nature of the soil in which the trees grow. —Toronto Telegram.

To Write Well.

For a man to write well there are required three necessities: to read the best authors, observe the best speakers, and much exercise of his own style. In style, to consider what ought to be written, and after what manner he must first think and excogitate his matter, then choose his words and examine the weight of either, then take care in placing and ranking both matter and words that the composition be comely; and to do this with diligence and often. —Ben Jonson.

Pronunciation of "Viking."

"Viking" is a Norse word, the English form of which is "wiking." It ought not to be pronounced as "viking," any more than the French words "kaif and gaidred." The Norse adjective "veik" means "weak" in English. The vikings were anything but weak. In fact, weakness barred one from ever being accepted as a member of the dare-devil bands of vikings. The very idea of weakness is therefore inadmissible in connection with the heroic word viking.

Various Forms of Bread.

While most countries bake their breads, there are some where hotted these countries are China and Africa. The daily bread of a large portion of the people of Africa is made from cassava flour. The cassava roots are soaked in water, left to dry and then pounded into flour by means of crude wooden or stone mortars and pestles. The cassava flour is mixed with water till a sticky dough is formed.

Blowing Cork Out of Bottle.

Place in the neck of a wide-mouthed bottle a cork considerably too small for it and try to blow it in the bottle. Instead of going in it will generally fly out. The reason is that the blowing compresses the air in the bottle and this, recoiling like a spring, drives the cork out. To succeed, the experiment must be tried with bottle and cork perfectly dry, so that one will not stick to the other. —Exchange.

How Fabrics May Be Tested.

The thumb test will help to determine strength and weaving quality of goods. The fabric is held between the forefingers and thumbs, while the knuckles should be forced together, causing a heavy strain on the fabric. Its strength will be shown by the ease or difficulty with which it tears.

Colors in Accord.

Leonard and Archie were playmates. Archie had red hair and was quite freckled. One day Leonard and his mother were strolling along in the park when Archie came in sight. Leonard turned around to his mother and said: "Say, doesn't Archie's face match his hair today?"

What is an Atheist?

Gladstone's definition of the term was "By atheist, I understand a man who not only holds off, like the skeptic, from the affirmative, but who drives himself, or is driven, to the negative assertion in regard to the whole unseen or to the existence of God."

Ages of Wild Animals.

A bear rarely lives above twenty years, a wolf twenty and a fox sixteen. The average age of cats is fifteen years, and squirrels and hares six or seven. Pigs have been known to reach thirty years, the rhinoceros fifty.

Historic Findings.

A group of tablets from excavations of Babylon was recently secured by Stanford university. Several of the pieces carry the distinct prints of the fingers which moulded them over 4,000 years ago, one bearing the name of Darius, King of Persia.

The earliest kind of pins, or of spikes serving the same purpose as pins, were probably thorns or the small bones of fish and other animals. Among the remains found on the sites of prehistoric lake-dwellings of Europe there are a number of bone pins, some of rude and others of an elegant form. The great majority of the pins in these "finds" are, however, of bronze; but a few of copper and one of iron have also been discovered.

Igloo Has Advantage.

An igloo is perhaps the best example of a house that conforms to the surroundings to be found the wide world over. They say the igloo is rather cramped for room, but on the other hand the high cost of living can have little effect on the price of "building materials" within the arctic circle. And to the explorer the glimpse of an ice hut through a gathering storm must seem more inspiring than a hundred boulevards to a city dweller.

Beliefs Connected With Arch.

The arch, one of the most beautiful of architectural achievements, was often associated with superstition. In India, in China, in New Zealand, to crawl under a brier grown down in the shape of an arch is considered a sure cure for rheumatism, boils, whooping cough, or whatever ails you. A sick child is passed under such an arch, in Borneo, and in New Guinea, passing under an arch is an initiation process observed with much ceremony.

Weather and Diamonds.

Diamond dealers don't like to pass an opinion on gems when the day is damp. It is a fact that weather has a great effect on precious stones. Murky weather will spoil the appearance of a diamond, but a really nasty, foggy day will make even the purest stone seem imperfect.

Best of All Mantles.

You may cover yourself over with silk bedspreads; they will not bring you rest. But just try wrapping yourself about with the mantle of charity and good will toward all men. Then your sleep will be sweet and you will waken ready for the new day. —Exchange.

His Prayer Was Answered!

A Grimsby (Eng.) fish merchant who early in the year wrote "God send you back to me" upon a treasury note which he put into circulation was surprised to receive it back recently as part payment of an account by a Scotchman east of him.

NO SUBSTANCE TO DREAMS

Writer Gives Reasons for Her Refusal to Have Any Belief in Common Superstitions.

The mind during sleep reminds me of a naughty child, writes Marion Holmes in the Chicago Daily News. With a normal person during waking hours reason controls it and when it seems inclined to let loose a foolish train of thought rebukes it with "Nonsense! behave yourself!" But when reason goes to sleep the mind has seasons of wild capering. It makes you do things that when awake would scorch you with blushes. It causes you to go to church dressed in your very best except your shoes and stockings, which you find you have left at home. It makes you marry a dark man with big black whiskers when you already have a perfectly satisfactory husband who is blond and smooth faced. There is nothing that it will not do uncontrolled by reason. Therefore I never have had much faith in the prophetic quality of dreams, although there are persons who pin their faith to those so-called warnings. We have heard them say, "I dreamed last night that I had lost a tooth. That means bad news," or "I dreamed of walking among ruined buildings. That means that somebody in the family is going to be ill," and, like fortune telling, the predictions that do not "make good" are forgotten.

A recurrent dream is of no importance. I have known the same stage setting with its incidents to be presented over and over in sleeping visions without ever reaching its counterpart in reality. An uncomfortable position during sleep, or the fact that you are not feeling well often occasions troubled dreams.

NEW THEORY IN ASTRONOMY

Possibility That There Is a Tail Attached to Our Earth Leads to Ingenious Suggestions.

Opposite to the sun there is a very mysterious glowing patch, which is thought to be attached to the earth as a cometlike tail.

The highest regions of our atmosphere consist of very light gases, and the impression is that some of these were driven away by the sun or by other means, and that they stream off from the earth into space just as the light gases do from the head of a large comet.

Naturally, this theory has aroused much controversy, and has led to all sorts of ingenious suggestions. One of these is that a swarm of meteors (of the kind we know as shooting stars) keeps us company through space at a distance of about a million miles, or four times the distance of the moon. But a tailed earth is an ideal vehicle for imaginative flights.

It might be argued that if our globe has a tail why should not the planets Mercury and Venus, and even Mars, have one. Well, perhaps they have, for all we know to the contrary. Our earth's tail would be much more easily seen by us because of its nearness and brightness.

Soft Beds in Ancient Days.

According to Athenaeus, effeminate gentlemen in ancient Greece sometimes slept on beds of sponge. Fashionable people in Athens slept under coverlets of dressed peacock skins, with the feathers on. Clearchus, the author of a treatise on sleep, described the bed of a Paphian prince in such a way that it is difficult to keep awake while reading it. "Over the soft mattresses," he writes "was hung an expensive short-grained Sardinian carpet. A coverlet of down texture succeeded, and upon this was cast a costly counterpane of Amorgian purple. Cushions variegated with the richest purple supported his head, while two soft Doric pillows of pale pink gently raised his feet."

Democratic Cigar Names.

The nomenclature of the cigar trade is one of the very interesting phases of democracy, says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. No agent intent upon building up a market for a 10 cent cigar ever named it for a statesman. He complimented, instead, an actor, a philanthropist, a race horse, a hypothetical Indian maiden or a supposititious Spanish grandee. To have named a 10 cent cigar for a statesman would have been to "queer" both the cigar and its involuntary patron. The people would not have stood for that sort of thing. It would have presumed a certain superiority which they would have rebuked both at the cigar stand and at the polls.

Decorated boxes can be put to various uses. Take tin boxes of various shapes and enamel inside and out. Cut out colored paper decorations or use cretonne and glue it on the box. If paper is used, the boxes should be varnished.

Forbidden.

Referring to the library sign, "Only low conversation permitted here," a correspondent informs us that he noticed in the Chicago public library a sign reading: Please do not sneeze in the books.—Boston Transcript.

Imagination Needs Tight Rein.

Without imagination you would be like a stove without a fire. But do not let the fire get the better of you. Imagination is like fire; it is a blessing, if controlled, but a curse, if uncontrolled.

Right Way to Read.

The only way to read with any efficiency is to read so heartily that dinner time comes two hours before you expected it, Sidney Smith wrote. To sit with your liver before you and hear the geese cackling that saved the capital and to see with your own eyes the Carthaginian sutlers gathering up the rings of the Roman knights after the battle of Cannae and heaping them into bushels; and to be so intimately present at the actions you are reading of that when any one knocks at the door it will take you two or three seconds to determine whether you are in your own study or on the plains of Lombardy looking at Hannibal's weather-beaten face—that is the only kind of study that is not tiresome, almost the only kind that is not useless.

Land of the Incas.

The Peruvian Central railroad is a wonderful monument to the science of railroad engineering, the climb being made through a system of "switch-backs" and having 54 tunnels in its tract. At one point, Ticklio pass, it rises to an altitude of nearly 19,000 feet. The mines are rich in historical lore, having been operated in a primitive way by the Inca Indians a long time before the advent of Pizarro, the famous conquistador of Peru.

In the near vicinity of the mines are many ruins of old Inca temples and other evidences of a remote but well-developed form of civilization that dates back to ages that as yet have not been definitely established.

Pointers for Aviators.

Prehistoric birds resembled the early airplanes in their small wing expanse and large tails, according to a British engineer, indicating that man's and nature's development work have been parallel. Flying fish are more likely than birds to yield information about soaring flight, in the opinion of another observer.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

May Be in Earnest.

"This burlesque queen says she's going to play Hamlet." "For why?" "She says she wants to do better work." "She's bluffing." "I don't think she's bluffing. She needn't hunt for an excuse to wear tights."

It Pays to Advertise.

"Just look at that rooster," remarked the duck: "since he's begun crowing he's had his statue placed on the top of the barn."

HAVE FUN WITH BRIDEGROOM

Harmonious Teasing by Bridal Attendants Is a Feature of the Afghan Wedding Ceremony.

The ceremony of the mirror, is perhaps, the oldest custom in connection with the Afghan wedding ceremony. A mirror is placed before the bride, and the bridegroom is asked to sit at the bride's left. A shawl is held over them, and the bride unveils and looks in the mirror. Husband and wife see each other's face for the first time. It is their first real meeting, says Ibbi Ali Shah, in Asia magazine. The bride is shy and does not open her eyes, and the bridesmaids and others chaff her freely.

An engraved silver bowl is then brought, with a little sherbet and a plate of white rice pudding. The bridegroom drinks a little of the sherbet and offers the bride a sip. She closes her lips tight, but force is applied and a spoonful put into her mouth; so also with the rice pudding. A shower of roses announces the termination of this rite. When the bridegroom attempts to rise, he finds he is held down to the floor; a corner of his coat has been sewed to the carpet. There is a roar of laughter. The offender is found—probably a younger sister of the bride. She refuses to undo the stitches unless a gold coin is given to her. As soon as this toll is paid, the bridegroom calls his attendants to bring his shoes, but one of them is missing. Some one declares she knows who has the shoe. It is returned on payment of two gold coins, and the bridegroom is freed from his tormentors.

BEAUTY IN COMMON THINGS

Kitchen Garden Will Furnish Really Exquisite Ornaments for the Living Room Flower Vases.

Have you ever thought of going to the kitchen garden to find something wherewith to fill your flower vases, when nothing can be found in your garden proper? asks a writer in Christian Science Monitor. Why wander aimlessly around that said garden, just because it is a flower garden, when a little farther on in the kitchen garden that gorgeous blaze of pale lemon color is just the thing to go with your deep-blue jars and jugs. "But," you will probably say, "that's cauliflower gone to seed, and who ever heard of decorating a drawing room with cauliflower?"

Prejudice, mere prejudice! Cast it to the winds, you will never regret it, and go and cut spray after spray of those delicate lemon blossoms, being careful to strip the leaves from the stems, then collect all the deep-blue Chinese jars and wedgewood jugs you can muster, arrange the cabbage flowers therein, and, judiciously placed on chests, window sills and bureaus, their effect will be absolutely charming.

The blossoms seem to arrange themselves, each spray standing out clearly from the parent stem, not all falling together as laburnum has a way of doing, when one tries to arrange it in vases. A combination of warm-gray stone walls old prints, pale blue and mauve chintzes, and the pale-clear lemon of cauliflower blossoms in blue jars in quite delightful, though other color schemes would give an equally happy effect.

Unwittingly Set Fashion.

An anecdote in connection with the glove shows how fashions are started. A young and beautiful duchess, having promised to be at an entertainment given for a charitable object, in Trouville, France, found herself late in preparing. She hurriedly took up her gloves and put them on in the carriage. As she entered the brilliantly lighted room, she found, to her dismay, that she had put on one black and one white. The mistake had arisen from the maid having laid out two pairs, not knowing which her lady would prefer—black or white.

Imagine the surprise of the duchess on perceiving that, in all subsequent entertainments of the season, the ladies wore odd gloves, corresponding with the colors of the dress.

To gain some idea of the splendor of some of the world's moth and butterfly collections of them from the tropics as they occur in South America, Asia, Africa and the great eastern and western archipelago, with certain parts of Australia. Such collections are to be found in the United States National museum in the reserve and duplicate series. There is a superb species that comes from Africa, wherein the "tails" to the hinder pair of wings are over eight inches in length. Then we have the gorgeous Atlas moth of the East Indies that measures a foot across from tip to tip of its upper wings.

Glow-Worms.

Glow-worms haunt the open, weedy-covered water-tables beside high roads. Here, after dusk, they scatter the grass with points of golden-green and liquid light. It is a genial rather than a cold radiance—warmer than many stars. At short range its brilliance is extraordinary; but it does not penetrate and only reveals a few grass blades and bits of earth round the source of light. Set upon those grass blades and stems of sand and soil exist many invisible creatures, who must see, or feel, the glow-worm's little lamp; and to them her passing is far more tremendous than to us would be the blaze of a great comet—"A Shadow Passes," Eden Phillpotts.

By No Means a Dude.

The speaker was energetically, orating in behalf of a candidate for congress. "What we want," spoke up a man in the audience, "is a man from the rank and file as our representative; a man from the common people, not one of these dudes that don't know anything but how to wear a long-tailed coat." "And that is just exactly what my candidate is," the speaker came back; "one of the common people. And by no stretch of the imagination could you call him a 'dude.' Why, his idea of dressing up is to button his vest."

An Historic Forest.

The historical associations connected with the forest of Yallobros are very interesting. It was founded in the Twelfth century and given its name which, literally translated, means "Shadowed Valley," by Saint Giovanni Gauberto, says Nelson Courtland Brown in the American Forestry Magazine. It was founded as a monastery and retreat for one of the Benedictine order of monks, and from its early inception the monks took great pride in caring for, cultivating and replanting the forests.

This Rapid Age.

Man's business requires haste. The average business and professional man eats in a hurry and gets dyspepsia. He walks in a hurry and gets apoplexy. He talks in a hurry and gets the lie. He does business in a hurry and becomes a bankrupt. He marries in a hurry and forgets it in a hurry. He makes his will in a hurry and leaves a legal contest. He dies in a hurry and goes to the devil—and his tribe increases.—Exchange.

Scents in Wood.

With the woods of the world to choose from, one can easily arrange a whole scale of scents, from the sweetest and most delicate of perfumes at one extreme, to rank and overpowerful odors at the other, says the American Forestry Magazine. The stores of the perfumer's shop will not yield a greater variety than one can find in woods.

Enough Said.

Frequently a question contains its own answer. Such a question was the one put recently by a Kansas young woman who had failed to qualify for a position as teacher. Feeling that she had not been considerably dealt with, she wrote: "I think I am entitled to an exclamation of why I failed anyway?"—Boston Transcript.

Taught by Experience.

CROUP

Croup comes like a thief in the dead of the night when least expected. It may take hours for a doctor to arrive, and immediate treatment is necessary. That is why the careful mother always keeps a bottle of Glessco in the home. Glessco has saved the rest of time. It has been used in millions of homes for years. It is a reliable remedy. Safe and sure in action, immediate in relief. Glessco is guaranteed to relieve an attack of croup in fifteen minutes without vomiting. It carries the offending mucus out of the system and does not upset the stomach.

Ask your doctor about Glessco. Your druggist will tell you that there is more of it sold every year than all other croup medicines. It costs 50c per bottle and is worth ten times as much in time of need.

SIMCO SALVE

Is Offered as the Best Cold, LaGrippe and Spanish Influenza Remedy on the Market

Or F. J. John, who is the agent in Charleroi, will give you your money back.

No one has ever been able to successfully imitate SIMCO SALVE. It is a mystery to some people how SIMCO SALVE relieves so quickly. Yet it is simply a scientifically prepared remedy, made to act in a scientific way and scientifically prepared medicines get results and easily conquer.

The inhaling of the antiseptic vapors from SIMCO SALVE is a proper correction for the clogged, inflamed and germ infected respiratory organs, and the heat of the body cause these vapors to be given off when the salve is applied to the chest and back. No wonder it quickly relieves severe colds, coughs, croup and hoarseness and is such a good remedy for treating influenza and pneumonia, because the application is penetrating from the chest and back at the same time the vapors are acting inside the lungs throat and head SIMCO SALVE is a tested and approved remedy so compounded as to be speedily effective in arresting or treating these affections.

On account of the antiseptic and active healing power of SIMCO SALVE, it relieves terrible itching skin like magic and is a mighty good ointment for eczema, chafing, salt rheum, itching piles, or for the healing of sores, cuts, bruises, burns, ulcers, healings, or those tender spots after shaving. It is really unnecessary to have a rash on the face or pimples or unsightly blemishes of that nature. Just go down to F. J.

Johns and get a jar of SIMCO SALVE for the trifling sum of 30c. It is light in color, effective and easy to apply; you will be delighted to see how rapidly these ugly spots begin to disappear, leaving a clear and healthy skin.

SIMCO SALVE is so soft and pliable that it constitutes an exceptionally effective rubbing liniment for sprains, rheumatism, sore muscles, stiff neck and neuralgia.

A jar of SIMCO SALVE the antiseptic for many uses, placed on your dresser means health protection; meets nearly every little need or emergency for the quick and easy home care of both children and adults. Get a jar at once at F. J. John's for only 30c on the "money back if it fails" plan. 30c, 60c and $1.00 per jar. If your druggist does not keep it, order from Wm. M. COURT ALLOWS VERDICT TO STAND

Judge James I. Brownson, in an opinion handed down has overruled the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict, in the suit of Mary Urwin and her husband, against Dr. Robert W. Smith, a well known physician of California. In this suit the jury awarded the plaintiff's $2,325 damages for alleged malpractice—$1,500 to the wife and $700 to the husband. The case aroused a great deal of interest among the medical fraternity. Counsel for the defendant has taken exceptions to the court's decision, indicating the case may be carried to the Supreme Court.

The claim was based on the alleged treatment given by the physician for inflammatory rheumatism. Mrs. Urwin alleged that the physician, after placing her under the influence of chloroform, straightened her left arm in a careless, negligent, reckless and unskillful manner, by the use of strong force and violence. Other allegations were set forth as to the care of the arm to substantiate the alleged charges of malpractice.

The contention of the defense was that the woman's condition was not due to treatment given by the physician, but that it was due to a disease which she, it was averred, had in her system. The court said it was a question for the jury to determine, and refused the motion for judgment.

BILL ADDS TO AUTO BANDITRY SENTENCES

A bill to place a severe penalty upon persons convicted of stealing automobiles and against using them in criminal operation was presented in the Senate at Harrisburg on Tuesday by Senator William S. McClintock of Pittsburg. The measure would also prohibit judges from paroling persons convicted of such crimes.

The bills provides that when any person is convicted of any felony except first degree murder and the evidence shows that a motor vehicle was used to transport the accused to or from the scene of the crime, or transport weapons, liquor illegally obtained or stolen goods, the court must impose a sentence which shall not be less than one-half of the maximum penalty provided by law for such crimes. No person so convicted can be paroled by the court.

The bill was presented by the Motor Federation of Pennsylvania. It was inspired by the action of a number of courts in paroling men convicted of auto banditry. This, it is claimed has encouraged young men to steal automobiles and join the ranks of highwaymen.

STERLINGS CONTINUE THEIR WINNING WAY

The Charleroi Sterlings defeated the Donora Elgins on the high school gym floor Tuesday night by a score of 34 to 14. The score would have been larger in favor of the victors, but as both teams had the same kind of suits this fact resulted in confusion. Lineup: STERLINGS—34 Elgins—14 Richard.....F..... Shaffer McKeown.....F..... Palmer Sheppard.....C..... Hayes Ritzer.....G..... Napolitana Hough.....G..... Coatsworth Goals. Sheppard 5, Richard 5, Ritzer 3, McKeown 2, Palmer 4, Shaffer, Napolitana. Fouls, Richard 2 out of 3; Sheppard 2 out of 3; Palmer 5 out of 10.

MONONGAHELA ADOPTS STRINGENT MEASURES

Major W. A. Allen of Monongahela, has issued orders to the police of that city, to arrest all persons on the streets after 12 o'clock, if they cannot give a satisfactory account of themselves. This action has been taken by the Mayor because of the robbery of the McGregor clothing store early Wednesday morning. All automobiles passing through the city at early hours of the morning are likewise to be held up and examined.

Making Use of Lizard Skin. The lizards of India—and India has a great crop of them—are hunted for their skins. Women's and children's shoes, purses and handbags are manufactured from them. These articles have been found to wear as well as calf skin or glace kid. The average skin is two feet square and is worth 32 cents. A pair of shoes made of lizard skin costs four dollars.—Popular Science Monthly

Love Works Miracles. The cure for all ills and wrongs, the cures, the sorrows and the crimes of humanity, all lie in the one word "love." It is true the divine quality that everywhere produces and restores life to each and every one of us, it gives the power of working miracles if we will.—L. W. Child.

Echo of the Sod House. An excellent substitute for cork is now obtained from turf, which, treated by a newly invented process, furnishes a material for insulation and building purposes quite equal to cork. The product is said to be equally light, firm and damp proof as well as sound proof.

Lowell had been told that when the sun comes up here it was getting dark in China. Early one morning the Chinese laundryman called at the back door. Lowell opened the door and his first question was: "Did you put your children to bed before you left home?"

Mixture That Makes for Success. Nothing ventured, nothing gained, is a saying with which all are familiar. The large majority of successful men assumed reasonable risk when they began their careers. Success results from a proper combination of brains, common sense and courage.

No Magic in Prosperity. Springs may bubble over, but buckets have to be filled. As much water can be taken from a bucket, as is put into it. Likewise prosperity has to be created before men can become prosperous. He who refuses to help create prosperity deserves none.

The Wonderful Tigra. From Bagdad to the sea, more than 600 miles, the Tigra is navigable for any boat not drawing more than about eight feet. River steamers go to Bagdad, though they often run aground on the shifting banks.

ALICE MINES ARE BEING TRANSFORMED

The Frick Coke company has several hundred men employed at the Alice mine, opposite Roscoe, transforming the workings of that old colliery into one of the most modern systems of coal delivery in the United States.

The improvements now under way will require at least two more years to complete, and will cost, it is said, up into the millions of dollars. By the system now being installed coal will be delivered from the point of production to the point of loading by means of a system of carrier belts which will be operated by motors driven by electric power. When all is completed it will be possible to load three big steel barges at one and the same time. The coal will be brought from the tipple, and many of the coke oven plants in the interior of Fayette county will be abandoned, the coal which formerly went to feed them to be taken to the by-product plant at Clairton, where all the elements of the bitumen will be saved and utilized.

FINED FOR RUNNING AUTO WHILE DRUNK

A dance and bad company were causes that brought Russell Crawford, of near Brownsville, before Judge J. A. McIlvaine in criminal court at Washington on Monday. The young man was charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated, to which charge he entered a plea of guilty. On the night of November 16 last, Crawford went in his father's machine to a dance in West Brownsville. While there some of his companions secured some "raisin jack," of which Crawford took two drinks, which caused his intoxication. He was then arrested for running his machine. He was given the minimum fine of $100 and costs. Judge McIlvaine stated that if people wanted to get drunk that was their business, but he warned them to keep out of an automobile if they do not want to run afoul of the law. Crawford heretofore had borne a good reputation.

MR. KINGSBURY SPOKE AT DONORA

SPRING FROCKS EVINCE A FONDNESS FOR CREPE SILKS

And that is by no means an ungrounded affection is proved by the gracious manner in which crepe de Chines, crepe meteors and Canton crepes yield to the dropped waistline, sashes, harem panel skirts and three quarter sleeves which distinguish the most fashionable of this season's modes. One may choose these frocks in black, navy blue, brown and grey with braided motifs or rich embroidery as trimming.
